

GOT SPRING?

Amberley's ESC (Environmental Stewardship Committee) will host its first presentation of 2012 on March 15 at 7:00 in council chambers at Village Hall. The featured topics will focus on spring preparations for fruit and vegetable gardening.

This lecture will coincide with Vice-Mayor Natalie Wolf's introduction of the new Amberley Green Garden. This spring a community garden will be constructed behind the clubhouse on the Amberley Green property, a project brought to the Village by the WeThrive! Grant from Hamilton County Public Health and the CDC. The garden site will serve as a community gathering space where residents can cultivate healthy food, participate in physical activity and exercise, share information about gardening, and nurture social relationships and community engagement.

Our guest speaker is David Dyke, Amberley resident and horticulture educator with Ohio State University Extension Office. He will discuss plant selection and varieties, plant placement, water and fertilizer needs, and other plant maintenance tips. This should help all gardeners, as well as those interested in participating in the Amberley Green Garden.

Other seminar topics that will be presented throughout the year may include composting, rain gardens, home safety, and native wildlife. Your suggestions for topics of interest are welcome!
